Observations

By Bob Walsh

VENEREAL DISEASES INCREASE
DUE TO PROMISCUITY

Behind every moral law there is a practical reason which protects those who conform from pain and anguish. The rules which govern man's relationships are not a compilation of "do and don't" fun-killers. The world has too many millions who are sad of heart and broken in body because they refused to learn these simple truths.

Without considering the sacredness of certain relationships and the lasting happiness that can be gained by adherence to the proper course, there always is the very obvious application which can be stated plainly and appreciated physically. Our bodies were not constructed for erotic abuses.

Three consecutive years have seen a steady increase in venereal disease among young people. A new case was reported every eleven minutes among those under twenty years of age.

In Pennsylvania syphilis had a rate of 26.8 cases for each 100,000 people. The average has been brought up higher than it should be through "problem" areas, such as one small county which had twenty-five times as many cases as the average, running 697 cases for each 100,000.

Over half the VD cases in public clinics are young people and unfortunately there are three cases undiagnosed for every one that is known. The full story would reveal that 200,000 men and women under twenty are infected annually!

One very frightening aspect of this study is the difficulty of controlling such diseases. It no longer can be pin-pointed on houses of prostitution. A main source of communication today is the "B-girl" and the pick-up who works independently. Bars are frequented as a working area in which to proposition the suckers.

This suggests that the boy or girl who has no relationship with the bar room pick-up is safe, but that is where the so-called "smart" operator is completely fooled. The boy who finds his girl to be easy is fooling himself. If she was easy for him she also was for someone else. And that someone else may have enjoyed relations with the pick-up we mentioned a few lines back.

The chain of communication is thus established. And this works both ways, applying also to the girl who wants to be "regular". Where was her boy friend before he got to her?

The figures listed here are to be found in a report of the American Social Hygiene Association. Harold R. Prowell, president of the Pennsylvania United Fund, says the ASHA "is fulfilling a strategic role, in getting the facts and working with local authorities to clean up vice-ridden areas".

The report states, "There is widespread concern for teenagers with venereal disease and for what the reported VD increases in the younger age groups may mean. Obviously, the depersonalized intimacies from which thousands of young people are infected with venereal disease every year are a challenge to parents, teachers, and religious leaders."

"Clearly there are many youngsters who desperately need the guidance of our youth agencies, our family agencies, and our mental health organizations," says Mr. Prowell.

Obviously the family is the first line of defense which has failed to stay this assault on the good health of our young people. Any intelligent boy or girl, properly approached by a trusted parent, and fully enlightened concerning all of the tragic alleys down which an immoral act can take the violator, should clearly see the pointlessness of a few minutes of "fun".

Forgetting the disease aspect, one can find many unhappy homes built on a relationship which started with questionable pleasure that made marriage a necessity. Or, to give it another twist, and a common one, the marriage for security which often follows the loss of one much loved . . . a loss that often is due to an "easy reputation".

Man is apt to chase the loose girl for fun and pursue the good girl for marriage. And that, of course, works both ways.

Shrug off the morals, if you wish, but you cannot avoid the results. The score is plainly written in the divorce courts, the VD reports, and the cemetery.

WILLIAM R. BOREMAN, 110 Terrace st., Warren, local district engineer of the Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania, retired April 1st after 42 years of service. He was honored by company officials and friends at a retirement dinner held recently at the Town Club in Jamestown.

Boreman started with the Bell Co. as a fieldman at Erie in 1917, and has been associated with the company's plant department during his entire career.

BUYERS' CORNER

LAWS AND YOUR POCKETBOOK

The current session of the state legislature has many bills under consideration which will have some effect on your income. The most apparent one of course is that which obtains the funds needed to run the government.

By the time you read this the sales tax may be an accepted fact, despite early opposition from both parties. Even seventeen Democrats voted against it when they saw it was going to be shellacked by a unanimous effort of the Republicans.

But at this writing the Republicans were using that old one about not having time to do something better, which is what the Governor said in the first place. They now probably will support it. And the seventeen Democrats who were afraid that they might be tagged with supporting an unpopular tax now will vote otherwise if they think their political opposites are going to switch.

As we wrote several weeks ago, the ultimate tax probably will be 3-1/2 per cent, an impractical and troublesome figure which might as well be 4 per cent and be done with it. A reduction to 3 per cent means that the base will have to be broadened in order to bring in the needed amount.

The Pennsylvania Retailers' Association is pulling for the 3 per cent levy and the broader base. The biggest pressure against the tax comes from automobile dealers and tavern owners, says the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers Association. The dealers want to continue the exemption of trade values and the taverns want their bar sales left alone.

MORE MEDICINE

House Bill 826 would remove the maximum of $450 placed on the amount to be spent on services, medicines, and supplies by employers under the workman's compensation act. This will cost more money and everything being normal we imagine it will be passed along. ***

WON'T GET FAR

Landlords who don't want children in their buildings will not like this one. House Bill 789 would prohibit discrimination in leases against occupancy by children and would make it unlawful to refuse to enter into a lease because of occupancy of children. This seems to violate some of the rights of the property owner. It works both ways, this rights business. ***

CHILD FARM LABOR

House Bill 813 would prevent the employment of minors under twelve on farms unless the farm is owned by their parents, but must work no more than six consecutive days, no more than eight hours a day, and no more than forty-four hours a week. ***

MOVE THE MOVIES

House Bill 800 would require permits to be issued by councils, commissioners, or supervisors to those erecting movie screens in outdoor drive-ins. The law would prohibit the erection of a screen that could be seen from the road, and the entrance must be a thousand feet from the highway. ***

THE POTENTIAL PAYS

House Bill 790 would require employers to pay for medical examinations if they are required of applicants. We think this is fair enough, except we can imagine that some employers might eliminate the examination to save money, and in some kinds of work that might not be best for all concerned. We suggest they should add that examinations be mandatory in jobs requiring physical fitness. ***

MORE BORROWING POWER

School boards would be given more borrowing power by House Bill 166. It has passed the house, 203 to 0. ***

OPTICIAN CONTROLS

House Bill 781 relates to the practice of ophthalmic dispensing and provides for registration and licensure of dispensing opticians. Section 8 (b) states that it shall be unlawful for any person registered as a dispensing optician to hold himself out or to advertise or employ displays in any manner as to suggest, infer, or indicate that he is authorized or qualified to give professional advice concerning eye care.

Section 10 makes it grounds for suspending or revoking licenses if the optician has made or caused to be made misleading, fraudulent or deceptive representations or advertisements or has included in any advertisements whether by newspaper, magazine, radio, television, signs, displays or by any other means, the price or prices of the products used for ophthalmic purposes. Referred to State Government. ***

BIG OF THEM

House Bill 787 would increase the maximum allowance for income and the allowable amount of property which may be owned by blind persons eligible for assistance. The income limitation would be raised from $2,500 to $3,500 annually. The property limitation would go up from $5,000 to $10,000.

A little more heart, but far from enough. Our state welfare is too wound up in property restrictions.

Architectural Drawing Of Pleasant Twp. School Addition

September of 1960 has been set as the completion date for the new addition to the Pleasant Township elementary school.

School directors formally signed contracts for the construction Monday night. The contractors and bids as accepted are Ludwig Peterson, Warren, general contractor, $69,110; McGinity and Johnson, Jamestown, N. Y., plumbing, $28,518; Sans Corp., Jamestown, N. Y., $35,967; and Bevevino Electric, electrical, $20,586. Beck and Tinkham, Architects, is the architectural firm engaged and submitted the above drawing.

Other local contractors who bid on the job were Beyer Construction, general contractor; C. Beckley, Inc., and Shaeffer Electric, electrical.

The plans call for two additional classrooms and an all-purpose room to the present four-room structure (section at the right). The dotted line to the rear of the building indicates space available for future expansion. Uses of the multi-purpose room will include cafeteria, auditorium, and gymnasium.

The School Authority has selected the firm of Moore, Leonard and Lynch, of Pittsburgh, to handle the sale of bonds.

Members of the Authority are Weston Ensworth, chairman, Alan VerMilyea, treasurer; Gilbert Buerkle, secretary; Glenn C. Elliott, Floyd Nollinger. Richard Leuthold is the attorney.

In Brief

UP AND RISING rapidly this morning was the Allegheny River. The reading at 8 o'clock was 10.4, .8 over the 9.6 reading at 6:30.

Indian Run went on the rampage again, flowing over its banks in spots.

And the flats at Starbrick near Warren Tank Car were flooded and the highway nearly covered.

All this as a result of heavy rains which started whipping the area last night and were continuing as of press time.

COUNTY BUDGET ADOPTED. A $455,700 budget, which exceeds last year's by over $50,000, has been adopted for the operation of Warren County in 1959. Last year's figure was $404,795. The new Institutional budget is $126,520, compared to $121,250 in 1958.

STARBRICK FIRE. What could have been a major blaze at the Charles Thomas home was dampened by Starbrick firemen Monday morning, when they were summoned by Mrs. Walter Gray. The latter, a neighbor, noticed the fire which firemen believed may have started from an electric motor in the refrigerator.

THIRTEEN LOADED COAL CARS of the Pennsylvania Railroad's river run between Oil City and Buffalo were derailed at 12:30 Sunday morning at the Irvine crossing on Route 6, forcing traffic to be detoured for several hours. The train included about 60 cars.

Local officials were unable to give the cause as of yesterday.

THE FOUR VICTIMS of a one-car accident at Tidioute Monday night remained on the critical list at Warren General Hospital this morning.

Those injured when their car sailed off Babylon Hill rd., striking a tree before piling into a home, were Jack Anderson, Warren, and Esther Marie Johnson, Tidioute, in the most serious condition; Leland Shorts, Jr., Warren, and Robert Anderson, of East Kane.

The condition of the victims has stalled police questioning in the case and prevented determining who was driving the vehicle.

DAMAGES amounting to $500 were sustained in Warren Tuesday afternoon when Andy Tutmaher, Chancellers Valley, struck the side of a car driven by Charles Thompson, 26 S. Carver st., on Fourth ave., as the latter pulled away from the curb into a drive.

FRIDAY MISHAPS. On Route 62 eight miles south of Warren, Ray Thomas, R. D. 2, Warren, slid sideways into the path of an approaching truck driven by William Farr, Falconer, causing over $1,000 in damages. A passenger in the car, Rosella Sharp, suffered shock.

A similar accident eight miles west of Warren involved three vehicles. Frank McKinney, Youngsville, skidded in front of an oncoming truck operated by A. Gabler, Lucinda. The former's auto was then struck by John R. Halley, Clarendon. Damage, over $1,000.

Larry Roberts, Youngsville, was unable to stop just east of Youngsville on slippery Route 6 and smacked the rear of a car driven by Kenneth Thompson, Warren.

A Port Allegany man, J. H. Gustafson, lost control of his truck near Kinzua and smashed into a utility pole and tree causing $1000 damage. The driver and his 10-year-old son required treatment for injuries.

Route 62, 10 miles south of Warren, was the scene of another. Frank Blum, Tionesta, went into a skid and hit Bruno Zaffino, of Warren. Loss to the cars, $750.

Over $800 damages were sustained when Spear Proukou, Warren, skidded across the center stripe and hit an oncoming car operated by Dominic Monda, Houston.

North of Youngsville on Route 27 minor damage was caused when a tractor trailer driven by Robert Dehner, Erie, swerved into a concrete drain. The driver claimed he moved over to miss a bus.

THE PROBLEM of inadequate parking facilities has been included in the 1959 program of the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce.

As an initial step the Chamber has agreed to raise $10,000 to support the Warren Parking Authority in its off-street parking project. The Borough Council has agreed to allocate a like amount.

Two lots have already been selected by the Authority -- one on Market st. and the other on lower Liberty st. It is expected 300 additional spaces will be provided by the action at an estimated cost of $110,000. This includes purchase of property, improvement, lights, meters, etc.

The Chamber's drive for funds will start April 6 and continue through April 20. Meetings will be held daily at 8 a.m. during the week of April 6-10, to which all of the business and professional people in the business district are invited to learn more about the project and express their views.

TV VIEWERS in this section should be aware that plans for April 17 Conelrad test were made final this week, after FCC's Comr. Lee and top staff members met with industry's advisory committee (headed by CBS's Davidson Vorhes) this week. The drill will run 11:30-Noon EST.

About 1,200 participating AM stations will remain on the air, while all TV, FM and non-participating AM's will go off. Each station leaving the air is to announce: "This station now leaves the air to cooperate with the U. S. Government in conducting a Conelrad drill. Please tune your radio to 640 or 1240kc for a special civil defense program. Normal broadcasting will be resumed in approximately 30 minutes."

One difference from previous tests: Conelrad stations in each "cluster" will remain on the air three to five minutes instead of 30 seconds. The drill is part of "Operation Alert--1959" to be conducted by the Office of Civil Defense Mobilization.

This notice was submitted by Warren Television Corporation.

APPOINTED MANAGER. William E. Shack, 711 Fourth ave., Warren, has been appointed manager of the local branch office of Knights Life Insurance. His office is located in the Warren Bank and Trust Bldg.

HONORED BY ORDER. The Boy Scout Order of the Arrow at its first annual banquet Tuesday night honored Lee Thompson, Youngsville collegeman, and Earl Mohnkern, active Scout leader in Warren, for their past services to the Order of the Arrow movement.

Both were presented plaques, the first ever to be given locally.

ON COMMITTEES. Harry A. Logan, Jr., chairman of the Oil Industry Division, Oil Centennial, Inc., has announced the names of oil men appointed as chairmen of the group's project committees.

Among these are W. F. Clinger, independent oil producer from Warren, Time Capsule Committee; Mr. Logan, United Refining Co., public relations committee.

Ernest C. Miller, vice president, West Penn Oil Co., Warren, has been named Historical Consultant for the industry-wide program.

BOND SALES. U. S. Savings Bonds amounting to $87,078 were purchased by Warren County residents during February. For the same period last month the amount was $86,950. For Pennsylvania the purchases of Series E and H bonds were down less than two per cent compared with the month a year ago.

TO TAKE SCHOLARSHIP TESTS. There will be 52 seniors from the county's five high schools taking the State Scholarship examination at Warren high school Friday morning. The student scoring the highest in this exam will receive a scholarship of $200 per year for four years to any accredited college in Pennsylvania.

Candidates should report at the school no later than 8:45 Friday morning.

THREE BANKERS who will attend the trust conference of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association in Harrisburg on Friday are Richard Huber, Warren National Bank; M. E. Jewell and R. W. Steber, Warren Bank & Trust.

FLOOD CONTROL for the Allegheny Valley was discussed by local and federal representatives in Warren Wednesday at a special luncheon meeting called by the Warren Area Chamber of Commerce Flood Control Committee with the intent to affirm the determination of the group to fight for some form of flood control until a definite goal is achieved for this area.

Congressman Gavin told the luncheon group that so long as the Kinzua project was being considered there would be no further flood control surveys or plans acceptable to the federal government, nor could funds be appropriated to further them. He also stated that the government had already spent some $75,000 in investigating the possibilities of several proposed alternate plans without finding a one which is either feasible or economical when compared with the Kinzua project.

While to date no decision has been reached by the Chamber flood committee, it seems apparent they will pick the dam as their favorite and put their complete effort behind same project.

Present for Wednesday's session were Mr. Kremer, J. H. Frantz, Donald E. Conaway, William Walker, James C. Torrance, Harold Curtis, Stewart Myers, Bernard Gofberg, Chamber committee; J. A. Carbon, chairman, Maurice Emory, Karl Timm, Henry Lanman, Nick Merenick, Art Langdon, and manager George Geracimos, Borough Council; Bill Leonard and Jerry Cummins, Bradford; D. M. Ernst, Corydon; J. W. Neill and H. W. Harmon, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

ROAD ABOUT DAM

In the window of the Warren National Bank can be seen a map which reveals plans for the roads that will take you to and around the Allegheny river dam. These are not the quiet little subject that they seem lying there in ink.

The difference of opinion concerning the location of the road which will go around the right side of the resulting lake is vital to all of us. The army engineers are reported to be advocating a road which will closely border the lake. The national forest officials who will control the use of the land on the east side of the lake think this is unwise. They want the road high on the nearby hill.

The difference to you lies in the use of the lake. The national forest officials want to create camp sites along the shore, and picnic areas. They want the highway far enough away from the shore so that these areas can be developed on sweeps of land leading down to lakeside.

We think they are right. But we also believe there could be a little of both kinds of development. Some of the road could be laid so that it offers motorists a view of the lake. Other portions could swing away far enough to allow camp and picknicking facilities.

We want the best and this is part of the planning which is vital to our future and about which we should be having some say. It is well to work for the construction of the dam, but at the same time we should be doing our best to see that the best of land use results.

THIRTIETH SEASON

"The Perfect Alibi" will open the thirtieth season of the Chautauqua Repertory company July 8, with the Cleveland Players again providing the actors. The season will run for seven weeks.

Also to be seen are "Uncle Vanya", "The Diary of Anne Frank", "Pictures in the Hallway", "Macbeth", "The Magnificent Yankee", "No Time for Sergeants".

ATTENTION CLERGYMEN

April 15, 1959 has significance other than the opening day of trout season. If you are a minister and want social security this is the deadline for you to file. You, of course, must have net earnings of over $400 a year.

This is the last date on which a minister can make his choice. Either he is covered or he never will be after April 15. He files Form IRS 2031. He can learn all in a booklet entitled "Social Security for Clergymen."

SUMMER SCHOOL

The Jamestown Community College is offering a wide range of subjects in its summer session which runs six weeks and starts June 29. Tuition is $10 per credit and $1 for registration. Classes will be offered in the forenoon and the late afternoon.

Subjects include mathematics, English, science, economics, German, remedial English, accounting, psychology, engineering, and chemistry. First year German is a six credit course and chemistry is a four. All others are three.

DON'T SAY WHAT YOU MEAN

To say that an employer should not discriminate against a potential employee because of race, creed, color, or age is one thing, but to say that he has no right to employ a man whose age best fits the job is quite another. And you say that when you rule that he cannot advertise for a "young" man.

If you are advertising for help it is illegal to use such words or word combinations as:

"Young" when used as an adjective in "young man", "young woman", "young trainee", "young college graduate", or "young veteran".

"Boy".

"Girl".

An expression limiting the age, such as "draftsman between 25 and 35".

"Teen-age".

We suggest that discrimination should be outlawed and should be avoided, but we at the same time should remember that freedom works for all. If you want a young man, why waste the time of older men who will apply under this law?

There are many jobs which are best done by the young, and it would be a waste of everyone's time to start a man of sixty in as an apprentice. It is quibbling to allow the advertiser to use the word "trainee", but not modify it with the word "young".

THEY PAY, YOU PAY

The Pennsylvania Gas Company says its suppliers are boosting their annual bill by almost a half million dollars, and so . . . who pays? The Company wants you to do it by way of an increase which was proposed to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission on Monday of this week. The increase would be 1.69 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, and would start June 1.

Politically this settles on the shoulders of such as Lyndon Johnson, a White House aspirant from Texas. If supplier rates are accountable, he is one of the Washington leaders who have favored no controls for gas line operators.

This is very similar to the rate increase and the reasons for it requested in July of 1957.

APRIL 15 DEADLINE CUSHIONED BY ADVICE OF WARREN TAX MEN

By Lewis Crippen

A relatively simple 1040 form was received recently in the Warren Income Tax Office containing at least 11 errors. It was necessary to return it to the taxpayer with the errors marked and instructions for correcting written along the borders. This confusion could have been avoided if the citizen had taken advantage of the professional assistance offered the public every Monday.

Room 203-A of the Warren Post Office is easily accessible and the accuracy assured for each return is worth the trip to the County Seat. Simple questions can be answered by phoning 1199 and, of course, the U.S. mail can be used for those who start early and are in no hurry.

One 94-year-old lady has received the assistance of the revenue department for each of the last ten years. Many taxpayers indicate their concern for accuracy and honesty by bringing all their exemptions with them so the income tax personnel may meet them personally.

Legibility is extremely important as many refunds go unclaimed annually because the Department can not read the name of the taxpayer. Incorrect addresses are responsible for many refunds being returned with the notation, "addressee unknown". Failure to follow the printed instructions is responsible for the major portion of the errors.

The Warren office is a branch of the Erie office and covers a territory which is bounded by the New York state line, St. Marys, Corry and Tionesta. The office is open year around for advice to taxpayers, and auditing of most corporation accounts and the selected individuals. The investigations by local revenue agents have recovered unreported taxes which pay the salaries of the agents many times over each year. Taxpayers must pay 6 per cent interest on "uncovered" taxes and the individual returns are open for examination for three years unless unusual circumstances are revealed which could open the accounts back an unlimited number of years.

It is well to remember that the individual is responsible for his own return regardless of who is employed to complete it. It pays to be honest and the government does not want you to overpay your taxes any more than it wants you to underpay.

Although the personnel usually gives advice in the office only, exceptions have been made for invalids of whom they have a few cases each year.

The telephone is your best advice when it comes to getting income tax advice. Just call the office and if you discover your problems need further attention come in to the office between 8:30 and 5 on Monday. April 15 is just around the corner so further delay will require last-minute action and subject the return to more errors.

It is nearly too late this year but you should remember next year that expert written advice can be obtained by pamphlets produced by the U. S. Government and available through the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C. For 35¢ each you may obtain Your Federal Income Tax (I.R.S. Pub. No. 17) or Tax Guide for Small Business (I.R.S. Pub. No. 334). The following publications are free: Employer's Tax Guide, Circular E (I.R.S. Pub. No. 15), Farmers' Tax Guide (I.R.S. Pub. No. 225), Tax Guide for U.S. Citizens Abroad (I.R.S. Pub. No. 54), and Casualties, Thefts, Condemnations (I.R.S. Pub. No. 155).

The most frequent question concerns working wives who earn less than $600 per year. Your local agents advise that those affected by this provision should read the instructions on back of the W-2 Form and save both time and money for themselves and the government.

Income tax can not be avoided. It will pay you, however, to be sure that your form is completed correctly. This can be best accomplished by seeking the assistance of your local agents: Glenn Elliott, Ray Cornwall, Garry Bunce and thereby avoiding the services of Nicholas Mangus who is responsible for all delinquent accounts.

LAST YEAR 400,000 taxpayers had to be searched out so Uncle Sam could pay millions of dollars in refunds, according to Glenn Elliott of the Warren office. Mr. Elliott quoted District Director John H. Binger as follows:

"Despite publication of names, there are still 300 undelivered refund checks for 1957. Taxpayers scrambled their names and ad-resses so they could not be read or just plain forgot to provide one or the other".

Mr. Elliott advised taxpayers to type or print their names and addresses plainly. If you move, be sure to leave a forwarding address with the post office. Lists of unclaimed refunds are available for inspection in the local office.

ALTHOUGH VISITORS ARE ALWAYS WELCOME, like Anthony Cerra, here receiving assistance from Garry Bunce, many simple questions can be answered over the phone. No matter how ridiculous your question may seem to yourself it is often worthwhile to check with the proper authorities. You will always receive a courteous answer even if it is not always to your benefit.

TAXPAYERS' ASSISTANCE is a portion of the work of the Warren Income Tax office. Here Ray Cornwall gives some advice to Jim Cerra who dropped into the office Monday afternoon. Since the government is as anxious for you to take all the deductions you can as it is for you to pay all you are legally required, the employees of this office can both save you money and avoid embarrassing questions in later investigations.

GOLF PROFIT NOT IN CASH

Though most golf courses manage to meet their expenses and actually show some profit, the margin is very small and accounts for the fact that there are not enough courses for the growing multitudes of players. If the profit suited the investment there would be no shortage.

A good nine holes, constructed on a reasonably clear piece of land costs about $40,000. This does not include a water system. To this you also must add the cost of equipment with which to maintain the course, and supplies of seed, fertilizer, and chemicals with which to keep it well turfed.

Golfers are not happy with nothing more than a field with nine holes punched into it. They may settle for any old pasture at the start, but as their game develops their taste for good playing conditions also grows. And they want that shower and good fellowship that follows a few hours of competition.

This calls for a club house, and no matter how humble it may be, money is required. If it houses no more than showers and lockers for both sexes, a pro shop, a counter, and rest rooms the price probably will be $25,000 or $30,000. And this investment will earn you very little unless you add enough space to house a sandwich grill and a tap room.

This suggests that if you do not wish to serve drinks you must invest about $75,000, and the annual costs of debt reduction maintenance must come from greens fees, the sale of soft drinks, and equipment. And to all of this you should add the cost of the land.

A good tap room of course changes this income situation by a large margin. In fact a golf course can change the situation for a tap room by an equally great percentage. Thirsty golfers are the best of customers in warm weather, when skins must be paid, and shots recalled.

However, public golf courses have proved to be a good investment. It is one of the few types of facilities which a community can provide its citizens without fear of losing money. It will pay for itself and yield enough margin to help finance other parts of the community recreation program.

This may not be a big enough profit to attract private capital but it is pleasing to community officials who find most play facilities an annual drag on the budget. The golf margin is slight, but it is definite, and can be proved by checking the accounts of many existing courses.

The customers are quite obvious. The demand is revealed by the fact that forty per cent of an expanding field of golfers are playing on only fifteen per cent of the courses. And this fifteen per cent consists of public courses. Another twenty-eight per cent are playing on twenty-six per cent of the courses. These are semi-private.

About fifty-nine per cent of the golf lay-outs are private, and they serve thirty-two per cent of the players.

These private courses are not overly crowded and they do not prove much concerning the potential profit in the golf business. Most of them figure their annual costs and the members pay the bill on a per capita basis. There is no effort to have a profit and the members are happy to pay a high price for a short wait at the tee and unbeaten greens.

You can read the financial reports of one hundred golf courses and not come up with a clear answer. Some incomes are limited to greens fees. Others include a variety of other items which distort the report.

But you will find that a well operated course will pay for its upkeep and have some left over. This left over amount varies from a couple thousand dollars to as much as $10,000, but that ten figure usually has some reasons other than normal greens fees to account for its size.

The Warren golfers missed their best opportunity about eight years ago when land was offered free and financing was set up in such a way that all contributors would have had their money back in four or five years. But the average golfer was not ready to give and a feeler revealed that they would not come up with even $10,000.

Today golf ideas are popping up on all sides. There is the Blueberry Inn group in Scandia where land is being cleared. Another man who has a farm about six miles from Warren on a main highway has indicated his interest in putting a course on it. And a large farm about nine miles from Warren on a major highway has been proposed as a site.

Out of this perhaps some one will come up with a lay-out that will measure up to the class which Warren wants and close enough to be practical. But we doubt if anyone at this time is prepared to give it to the golfers. They may have to dig a bit.

The golf contractors will build you a course anywhere. And they will build you one for any money you have. But you will get only what the price buys. A reasonably good nine holes will cost you at least $35,000, and, as we said earlier, this does not include pipe, the laying of it, club house, and equipment. You also should have housing for this equipment.

The most practical way to approach this problem is as a public course with the public putting up a major share of the money. Or as a non-profit private club. In neither case is it a profit venture. The group benefits, and the course will pay its way.

However, if anyone has the risk capital and wants to provide a course the golfers certainly should welcome the effort. If the facility is adequate and does justice to a very fine game, everyone will benefit if the investors can be made happy with a small return from the course itself.

But the big profit in golf is not to be found in the cash register. The dividends are good fun and healthful leisure hours.

NEW IDEAS FOR A NEW ERA

NATIONWIDE GENERAL INSURANCE COMPANY home office: Columbus, Ohio

NEXT YEAR
AMERICAN Broadcasting Company has purchased five new shows for next year from Screen Gems. They are "The Big Walk", character study of a New York City policeman; "Cry Fraud", the story of an insurance investigator west of St. Louis in the 1870's; "Astronaut", a naturalistic science fiction show produced with the cooperation of the Convair Astronautics Division, places its action just ten years in the future (presumably); "The Fat Man", an hour-long mystery based on Dashiell Hammett's stories; "Cissie", an Ozark mountain comedy.

BARBARA STANWYCK THEATRE, a series of twenty-six films being produced for next season's showing by NBC, has gone into production, Miss Stanwyck will appear in eighteen of the shows and act as hostess for the remainder.

LINEUP, which has been reported as about to sing its swan song, instead will be expanded to CBS to an hour-long show and placed in the 7:30-8:30 time slot on Wednesday evenings to compete with NBC's "Wagon Train". In opposition to ABC's alternating "Cheyenne" and "Sugar Foot", on Tuesday nights, CBS plans an adventure in space titled "Out There".

ERIC SEVAREID, CBS news commentator and currently host of "The Great Challenge" takes a four-month leave of absence beginning June 1 and in October joins the CBS London bureau.

SUNRISE SEMESTER will take a summer recess this year although last year it remained on the air in the New York area where it is an hour-long program. Also, for New York students, it is expected to be cut next season to a half-hour session. A filmed version is presently being televised by WBEN-TV but there has been no release on what plans that station has for next season viewing.

NEW RADIO NETWORK
RADIO WORLDWIDE is the name of a corporation about to be formed and which has been in the "thinking stage" for about eighteen months. Most of its subscribers will be drawn from the three present networks, Mutual, NBC and CBS.

Its chief characteristic is that of a programming service not involving advertising. The programs it prepares will be sold for a set price to independent stations. The major difference between the new network and others will be that its programs may be carried in time periods selected by the individual station rather than in the prime periods as dictated by the "big three".

Two advantages noted are that individual stations may carry the programs as filler, requiring less local staff since the programs are filmed; and quality programs will thus be available for local showing.

NAVY STATION ON MIDWAY
The US Navy has announced that it is now operating a tiny television station on Midway Island in the mid-Pacific. It is said to be a low-cost, do-it-yourself station that can be operated by one man.

It is called the Star (simplified television and radio), is operated by twelve push buttons and requires ten minutes training to learn to operate it.

It is estimated to have cost about $15,000, puts out a signal over a five-mile radius and operates with less than 100 watts of power. The Navy didn't say how many television sets Midway Island has.

COMING SOON
OMNIBUS will present "The Strange Ordeal of the Normandier" on Sunday, April 12. This is the true story of a disaster at sea as retold by one of its two survivors.

ZERO 1960, a series slated for viewing on WJAC Saturdays, at 3:30, has scheduled the following episodes for April: "Our Talk With Khrushchev", April 11, a discussion of the propaganda war and Russia's continuing advantage; "The Challenge of Outer Space", April 18, an analysis of the East-West race for missile supremacy; and "He Stopped At Murder", April 25, experiences related by a former captain in the Soviet Intelligence Service who broke with Communism and escaped to the West.

CONTINENTAL CLASSROOM begins a new series of 43 lessons next week. The new course will be in Nuclear Physics. Dr. Harvey White, current instructor of the Atomic Physics series, will continue as instructor of the new course.

MUCH MARTIN

Mary Martin is still first lady of television, after the two-hour saturation programming on Sunday—but only by an eyelash. The afternoon program billed for children and their parents, was an extravagant hour of song and Mary Martin, always gay and charming and sometimes luminous.

Miss Martin's evening show was more or less a review of the lustrous Martin career. She started with herself as a child singer carrying a song about "tying apples on the lilac tree" which her mother had taught her and which she sang at the Weatherford Fire Department ball. We traced the lustrous Martin career through the sweet-little-Alice-blue period to Hollywood where she became known as "audition Mary," through the nightclubs where she learned to keep singing "no matter what," and finally to "My Heart Belongs to Daddy" or manifest destiny period on Broadway.

It dragged a bit, this first half hour, but there were fine elfin moments of charm and humor. The second half hour in which Miss Martin recreated some of the high spots of her triumphant parade through some great shows—"One Touch of Venus," "Annie Get Your Gun," "Lute Song," "South Pacific," and "Peter Pan"—soared uninterruptedly to a great finish in midair. Of course, this is what you might call Nostalgia, Inc. The impact of these songs is generated largely by their associational value with past glories. And what, you may well ask, is the matter with that? If it hits you in the stomach, it is all that you can decently ask of a show of this nature. But I keep thinking that, if our entertainers keep rolling around in past glories, future generations will have not much to get nostalgic about.

The show was live and you can't hardly get that kind any more in this era of tape. That meant Miss Martin was singing and dancing and changing costumes and narrating—all in the allotted time before our entranced eyes and this still has its own kind of magic. The Martin voice has been better—she's been troubled with a virus—but it still has a wonderful warmth and clarity and unexpected power. I will never know what it is that makes one person a star as opposed to simply a fine performer—but I think it has something to do with the ability to make the audience suddenly breathless with the wonder of the occasion and Miss Martin still possesses that magic quality to a superior degree.

So much for Miss Martin's evening show. On her afternoon show, to get straight at the bald and distressing facts, Miss Martin at one point played Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella." She played the fairy godmother. She played Cinderella. She played the Prince. She played the three ugly sisters. Then she played a substantial part of the female population of the rest of the kingdom. Some people might call this virtuosity. Others might call it megalomania. In any case, it was all pretty tedious for a story that has been pretty audience proof up to now.

The afternoon was a sort of monstrously coy audience participation bit between Miss Martin and a gaggle of kids whom she kept urging to sing "real loud" with her, at whom she kept winking and flirting, and being, in general, cute.

"This girl," muttered a horrified witness, "is going to bring back June Allyson."

"What age group you suppose she's aiming at?" I said. "Certainly not my kids."

"The age group she is aiming at will be born in about two years," said my fellow witness.

I think it is wrong to talk down to kids. In fact, exposed as they are to television and movies and their fellow juvenile delinquents, it's hard even to keep up to their level of sophistication.

All I can add is that I love Mary Martin not because of this show but in spite of it.

STYLE SHOP ELIMINATED

Harry's Lunch, last year's tournament champions, clubbed the Style Shop, 98 to 66, to eliminate the Warren quintet from the annual Jamestown YMCA Spring Basketball Tournament in quarter final action in Jamestown on Tuesday night.

The same Harry's Lunch team, which is composed of Oil City cagers, dropped the Style Shop from the tournament last year.

The winners enjoyed a good shooting night on Tuesday and controlled the boards enabling them to get a second or third shot when needed while the Stylers had their poorest shooting night in tournament play.

Hud Berdine led the Style Shop with 22. Six members of the winning team hit in the double figures with Ernie Smith leading the way with 21.

The Style Shop qualified for a semi-final berth by edging Royal Electric, 62 to 58, in second round play in the Jamestown tourney last Friday night.

The experience of the older Style Shop quintet proved to be too much for the younger Royal Electric team composed of members of the Falconer, N.Y., high school basketball team and a pair of their coaches.

Bob Kolesar led the Stylers with 16 and Hud Berdine and Dave Berdine scored 12 each.

BENEFIT GAME SATURDAY

A 12-man Warren All-Star squad has been selected to meet the Farrell All-Stars led by All-American Julius McCoy in a benefit basketball game for injured Warren cager Bob Wolfe on Beaty Gym this Saturday night, April 4, at 8:30 p.m.

A preliminary game featuring all-stars from the YMCA Junior Basketball League will be played at 7:15 p.m.

The Warren area All-Star roster will include Joel Beason, Nicky Creola, George Dewey, Tom Hart, George Hesch, Ron Isackson, Bob Johnson, Jack Karkosky, Gail Nelson, Joe Scalise, Ron Warner and Bob Winterburn.

Besides Julius McCoy, an All-American cager at Michigan State, the Farrell team will include Jim McCoy, currently playing collegiate basketball at Marquette, Tony Knott, a Youngstown University cager, and Fill Delis, an Indiana University player.

The contest, which is the biggest single game attraction to be played in Warren in several years, is a benefit game for Bob Wolfe, Warren cager who fractured his arm in the Bob Lundquist Memorial Tournament at the YMCA and will be unable to return to his job for several weeks.

Tickets for the game can be purchased at Olson & Bjers, American Legion, Style Shop, Busy Bee, United, Logan's, West Side Confectionery and the East Side post office sub-station in Warren, and Rock Springs Park in Sheffield.

BASEBALL MOVIE TONIGHT

Base running and Sliding will be highlighted in the baseball training films to be shown to Hot Stove League players, team handlers and other interested persons at the Warren Moose Club's fifth baseball training session in the Moose rooms at 7 p.m. tonight.

REVOLVER LEAGUE SHOTS

The Warren Revolver League will host Clearfield, Curwensville and Dubois in a four-club shoot in Warren this Saturday afternoon, April 4. It will be Warren's first four-club shoot in many years.

During the regular session last Monday night in the court house, Harry Mong took top honors with a 274 score.

Top shooters were, Class A, Mong, 274, Worley, 267, and Schmatz, 256; Class B, Overturf, 260, Mack, 253, and Bielowski, 252; Class C, Mead, 255, Sterns, 231, and McIntosh, 230.

TIDIOUTE IN TOURNEY

Tidioute will replace Northern Area in the Class B, District 10 volleyball tournament in Conneautville this Saturday, April 4. The Knights dropped from the tournament competition because track practice claimed the majority of their spikers.

SEE THE COURSE

Those who are promoting the construction of a golf course in Scandia have had drafting sketches made of the hole arrangements. These can be seen in Bill Simonsen's office or at Blueberry Inn. A meeting is being held this Friday noon with some of Warren's interested golfers. J. G. Harrison, who plans and constructs golf courses, will be present.

JOB-HUNTERS

Examinations for the Game Commission school will be held this Saturday in the William Penn high school, Harrisburg. Eligible will be 230 applicants, the remnants of the original 980 men who showed an interest in the qualifications for student officers.

Of the 980 who enquired, only 290 asked for application forms. Sixty of these were rejected by officials because they did not meet preliminary qualifications.

REGISTRATION

There are 18,196 Warren County residents who will be eligible to vote in the May 19 Primary election--12,019 Republican, 5,816 Democrat, 251 Non-partisan, 109 Prohibitionist, and 1 Socialist.

The totals were arrived at after the close of registration Monday night.

Republicans held the edge in new registration totals with 352. There were 270, D; 5, P; and 4 NP. Sixty-seven D changed to R, 57 R to D, 25 NP to R, 8 P to R, 7 NP to D, and 1 P to NP.

REFERENDUMS REJECTED

Three local option referendums on the wet and dry issue in Conewango twp., Elk twp., and Sugar Grove Borough were rejected Monday afternoon when the court upheld earlier decisions of the board of elections.

The board had refused all three. Conewango on the basis the petition was received after the deadline, and the other two because the occupations of the signers were not listed.

SETS COLLECT RECORDS -- Pat Madden, extreme left, set a pair of new school records and was a member of the undefeated 400 yard medley relay team this year as a member of the Slippery Rock State Teachers College swimming team. The unbeaten relay team, pictured here, was composed of Pat Madden, Warren, Bob Peterson, New Castle, John Rodgers, Clairton, and Free-land McMullen, Sandy Lake. Madden swam the breast stroke leg on the relay team. The Warren swimmer also set a new school record of 2:37.9 in the 200 yard butterfly and a new school record of 2:41.5 in the 200 yard breast stroke. The old school records were 2:46 and 2:41.8. Competing in the Penn-Ohio Conialference swimming meet the Warren freshman placed second in the 202 yard breast stroke and fourth in the 200 yard butterfly. The 400 yard medly relay team of which he was a member also established a state record of 4:11.5. During the college swimming season, Madden amassed 84 individual points, the second highest total of the Slippery Rock team. This summer he plans to coach the CVCC swimming team again.
